

Super brief character descriptions

Scarlet: an actress, a thief, a seductress

Amelotte: attractive young woman of the upper class

Guard/Soldier: generic guard

Violet: an actress, a thief, a seductress

Diane: attractive young woman of the upper class

Jeanette: a trollop who's had a rough life

Madame Clopin: queen of the court of miracles, a gypsy

Innkeeper's wife: hard-working, quiet

Mme Noir: a crazy old widow

Fleur-de-lys: a beautiful, silly young twit of the upper class

Donna: a drunk and a tramp

Gypsy: very brief appearance as part of gypsy mob

Lady de G: older Parisian society grand dame

Granny: the oldest member of the court of miracles, so, so old

Jehan: Frollo's brother, educated, but always drunk and always out of money

Francois: a con artist

Private: military

Jacque: a con artist

Charmolue: a member of the court, almost like clergy, like a judge

Corporal: military

Lieutenant: military

Coppenole: a visiting rogue

Gerard: a con artist

Cousin: an executioner, he flogs Quasimodo

Djali: a goat

Clopin: king of the gypsies

Innkeeper: a gruff hard-working guy

M. Blanc: a completely crazy old man

Juggler: a traveling performer

Gringoire: a poet, philosopher, dreamer, educated but poor

Esmeralda: a beautiful dancer and traveling performer raised by gypsies

Frollo: Archdeacon of Notre Dame

Quasimodo: the bell-ringer of Notre Dame

Sister Gudule: formerly Paquette la Chatefleurie, she is an anchorite who lives in seclusion and mourns the loss of her child.

Phoebus: captain of the guard, so very handsome